Let the Good Times Roll!

IN THE SPIRIT OF RECESSION-ERA COLLABORATION, two nonprofit organizations joined together recently to host a Sock Hop-themed fundraiser at Fess Parker's DoubleTree Resort. The joint effort brought LifeChronicles and the Alzheimer's Association together for a common cause: to celebrate the joy of living.

"It was an incredible party," said Kate Carter, Founder of LifeChronicles. "It was great to see people let their hair down and forget their troubles."

On May 29th, more than 150 people donned poodle skirts and leather jackets to show their support for the two organizations. Catherine Remak served as Emcee for the evening while Barry Sweet served as Auctioneer. Following informative presentations and an auction, attendees jumped and jived to the 50s rock band Captain Cardiac and the Coronaries.

"Even though we didn't raise as much as we had hoped, I'm thrilled with the event," said Carter. "We had a great response and hope to do it again in the future."
